

Indiana's No Call List has been very effective. Before adding our number to the list we received up to four 3-rings and a hang-up (computer generated) calls per day. Working third shifts, being able to sleep with the normal day-time sounds is difficult enough; receiving unwanted telephone calls makes getting quality sleep almost impossible. Since implementation, we receive no such calls. We can not just turn the telephone off as we need to receive emergency calls and necessary communications. We are very pleased with the protection we now receive under the current Indiana No Call Rule and feel that any actions that would lessen it's effectiveness would be detrimental to our health and well-being.

Jerry L. Gaska-Straub

Herbert M. Straub